

HERRIARD VILLAGE CENTRE

Herriard Village Centre update August 2009

The much needed recent downpour has worked wonders with site landscaping and the grass seed is sprouting with a vengeance!

The majority of the levels and drainage are now installed, and the cricket square is clearly visible. The landscaping will continue to settle and no further works are planned on this part of the development over the next month.

The rest of the development is still largely on track, with the pavilion foundations poured and the ground floor now in place. Over the next month the brick and block work will be built taking the pavilion up to roof plate level.

The car parking areas will also be formed over the next month and taken up to base level.

As usual, so as to ensure health and safety, the site will be secured as much as possible and the developers respectfully remind all parishioners not to venture on site without prior permission.
